

NEWS RELEASE

DATE: 2 June 2010

ACCOUNTANTS CELEBRATE PROMOTION

Two accountants from a Staffordshire firm are celebrating a great start to the summer after both picked up promotions. Gary Chadwick and Matt Jordan have both been promoted from Managers to Directors at Wolstanton based, DJH Accountants Ltd.

Thirty seven year old Gary joined the firm over 18 years ago and will have specific responsibility for the firm's specialist Audit and Assurance Department and has been appointed as the firm's new Audit Compliance Director. Matt, who is thirty two, joined the firm 14 years ago and in his new role he will cover a wider remit to develop the audit and business service offering to SME's and start up businesses.

Fellow Director Chris Beardmore commented: "We are delighted with the achievements of Gary and Matt. Their promotion will strengthen the Management Team as we prepare for future growth and the next stage in the development of the firm. Their promotions also come on the back of the increasing demand from clients for complex and higher level services. Our new directors enjoy looking after clients helping them develop and build their businesses, in a professional yet friendly manner and assisting with the red tape that is a continual increasing burden.

It is a proud moment to see two of our longest standing employees promoted to Directors. We will continue to build on the success that we have had to date and to focus on developing our SME client base along with delivering the full range of core and specialist services required by growing businesses in the Midlands and North West, such as corporate consultancy, audit services, tax advice and corporate finance. Our continued commitment to the Staffordshire area and helping businesses to grow is demonstrated by these two promotions.”

Gary comments: “The market for accountancy services is very competitive but increasingly clients are looking for a more comprehensive level of advice. I am confident that our service capability hits the mark and I am looking forward to cultivating our business and the challenges ahead.”

ENDS